

Annette Gerlach is a German TV host and journalist of the European television channel Arte. Born in Berlin, Annette Gerlach has been living and working in France since her studies. After studying economics, she began her journalistic career as editor of the weekly magazine Le Nouvel Observateur in Paris. In 1992, she joined the television channel Arte in Strasbourg, from its inception.

In addition, Annette Gerlach covers prestigious cultural events all over the world, often broadcast live by Arte. .She also gained notoriety through the annual presentation of the Berlin International Film Festival.

